CHANCES FOR THE RATIFICATION OF PACT FADING FAST

Friends Work With Dedoubled Effort on Article Ten

EXPECT VOTE THIS WEEK

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Article ten motion picture, the dominating issue in the peace treaty fight, became the unfinished business of the senate today while Republican and Democratic senators who want the treaty ratified worked for compromise with fading hope.

Several Republican leaders convinced that ratification would be impossible with their article ten reservation of last November unchanged, agreed on a substitute and made an active campaign to line up the necessary Democratic votes behind it. But they did not succeed and although the compromise negotiations will continue no one had much hope tonight of an agreement. The new Republican reservation follows the general outline of the one adopted in November, but it puts into different and more specific form its declaration regarding the article's obligations. Some of the Democrats were satisfied with it, twenty-eight was the peak of Democratic votes which its Republican advocates claimed for it in any eventuality, and it would require at least thirty additional votes to make ratification possible. It was indicated that President Wilson's new letter on the subject, although it failed to stop the compromise negotiations had not been without effect in stiffening the administration ranks against anything like the old Republican reservation. Democratic senators were in disagreement over what the president would do in the event of a compromise ratification and many of them declared their inclination to let the doubt resolve itself in favor of a conservative course.

So discouraged were the Republican leaders tonight that they had not decided whether their substitute reservation would be offered at all in the senate. They indicated, however, that they would not delay action long to the interests of compromise and that the debate to begin tomorrow probably would last but a few days.

The way to consideration of the subject on the senate floor was cleared just before adjournment by resolution in a modified form of the reservation on voting power in the league. As it finally prevailed, the reservation the last except that relating to article ten, declares that until the covenant is amended so as to give equal voting power, the United States declines to be bound by decisions in which congress has not previously given consent. The vote on ratification of the reservation was fifty-seven to twenty with seventeen Democrats voting for it, nine more than supported it in November. The only changes made were on motion of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, a substitute offered by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the Democratic leader, falling forty-four to thirty-one and one by Senator McCormick, Republican of Illinois, 57 to 13.

The reservation on the subject urged last session by Senator Johnson, Republican of California, also was reintroduced by Senator Phelps, Democrat of California, but was voted down seventy-three to four.

During the day's debate on the voting power reservation Senator Lodge told the senate that the president's letter had emphasized the features of article ten to which Republicans were objecting and thus had touched upon the vital agreements of the whole treaty controversy. The article, Mr. Lodge described as a binding characteristic based on naked force, a characteristic which he said the president apparently regarded as essential but which the senate majority never would accept. He also criticized the president's references to France and to the Adriatic question.

In presenting the new draft to the Democrats the Republican leaders are understood to have represented it as embodying the farthest step they were willing to take in the direction of compromise.

In these negotiations both Senators Lodge and Hitchcock refrained in taking an active part, but friends of the Republican leader declared they felt certain he would give his assent to the substitute. Mr. Hitchcock on the other hand was renounced as unwilling to accept the proposal.

GOV. LOWDEN DECLARES RECONSTRUCTION MUST BEGIN AT WASHINGTON

Delivers an Address Before
King's County Republican Committee at Brooklyn.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 9.—How to raise by taxation revenue sufficient to pay the expenditures of government without checking or destroying legitimate business was the subject of a live issue by Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, candidate for the Republican nomination, speaking in Brooklyn tonight at a meeting under the auspices of the Kings County Republican Committee.

He declared the estimates submitted by the federal department for the ensuing fiscal year more than four times those of the year preceding the war, "is a serious business proposition which our country must face if it is to avoid the rocks of bankruptcy."

Governor Lowden said in all the talk about readjustment and reconstruction he would advise that "the place to begin reconstruction is at Washington, if it would return to normal conditions."

"That can only be done," he said, "by the application to administration of business principles, so that economy and efficiency may be united in government; so that it may perform the healthful functions for which it was designed without continuing to be a burden upon the enterprises and industries of this country. When reform has begun there, its influence will begin to radiate to the remotest corner of our republic."

The governor labelled the high cost of living as one of the greatest evils today.

Taxation has a direct relation to that," he said. "I don't care how clever congress may be, it has not the genius to frame laws so that excess profit taxes and income taxes will not be partly borne by the consumer. You can't reduce the high cost of living until you reduce the high cost of government."

SIMS STANDS BY HIS CRISMS ON WORK OF U.S. NAVY

Declares Department
Failed to Cooperate
Fully With Allies

HAS EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT CLAIM

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Rear-Admiral Sims, in an opening statement today before the senate committee investigating his charges that the navy department failed to cooperate fully with the allies during the war outlined the specific points on which he based his criticisms and promised that beginning tomorrow he would present evidence in support of his contention. In opening his testimony Admiral Sims denied intention of initiating an attack on the part the navy played in the war or of belittling its efforts, inasmuch as he was "unable adequately to express" his admiration for the navy's efforts. His criticisms, he said, were directed at the policies pursued in the first six months of the conflict.

The admiral told the committee that in calling attention to what he considered failure of the navy department to give the Allies full co-operation at first, he had "nothing to gain and everything to lose." Instead only the sense of his duty as a naval officer and solicitude for the future naval policy of the country, he said, impelled him to point out grave mistakes in naval administration. Basic criticisms of the navy's policies were said by the admiral to be:

That during the early period of the war the department violated fundamental principles of warfare leading to a prolongation of hostilities and needless loss of lives and money.

That the policies of the department in the last half of the war were identical with recommendations rejected during the first six months. That if the department entered the war they should have been placed in effect at once.

That mistakes, if any were made, should be carefully reviewed to avoid a future recurrence and to help mould future national defense policies.

The United States entered the war with the navy unprepared, he said although war had been a possibility for two years. American forces on the sea were not in the highest state of readiness. Owing to these conditions the witness added lack of proper organization in the navy department and because of other factors with which he was not familiar it failed for at least six months to throw its full force against the enemy.

Referring to the recent naval decorations inquiry of which the present investigation is an outgrowth the admiral said there existed what the naval service believes to be a deliberate campaign of propaganda aimed at prejudicing the case by bringing in "wholly irrelevant" subjects. As an example he said his views on the fitness of Admiral Henry R. Wilson to be commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet had been brought in personal correspondence from him to the department on the subject introduced and accounts of his personal broadcasts by navy wireless to every ship and naval station.

"If the method of making naval awards did not affect the morale of the navy this instance was certainly calculated to do so," he added. "This was a manifest outrage against the efficiency of the fleet and against Admiral Wilson himself as well as against the proper investigation of important issues of national defense."

HOPE TO REACH AN AGREEMENT ON WAGE QUESTION

Union Chiefs and Rail
Executives Take Up
Subject Today

FIRST MEETING IN TWO YEARS

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, March 9.—Representatives of railroad labor and railroad officials will confer tomorrow on the question of wages for the first time in more than two years. Committees acting for the recognized labor unions and the association of railway executives will arrange the preliminaries for conferring a joint board to thrash out pending and future wage controversies. The first work of the joint board when permanently organized will be to deal with the demand for a wage increase by all rail workers which has been before President Wilson and which was the subject of negotiations between the labor representatives and Director General Hines for a month immediately prior to the termination of federal control.

Mr. Hines said the president today but it was said the meeting was only for the purpose of showing him what progress had been made.

While declaring they would enter the negotiations, "with a spirit of co-operation, railroad officials explained that any wage increase must be predicated, of course on the revenue they can gain thru increased rates.

It was evident tonight that neither committee desired to allow the disputed questions to be taken from the joint board to the railroad labor board created by the transportation act, on which the public will have representation if such could be avoided.

All of the labor groups were said tonight to have made their nominations to the railroad labor board. The shop crafts group, have chosen A. O. Wharton, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor and B. M. Jewell, who has been serving as acting president of the affiliated railroad employees. The names of the other group nominees will probably be made public tomorrow.

CONCLUDE ARGUMENTS ATTACKING DRY LAW IN SUPREME COURT

Question Now Up to Nation's Highest Tribunal for Decision

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Presentation of arguments in cases from Rhode Island and Massachusetts attacking the validity of the prohibition amendment to the constitution were concluded today in supreme court. The case from Kentucky will be disposed of tomorrow after which the question will be left to the nation's highest tribunal for decision.

Counsel for those attacking the amendment continued today to argue that it was revolutionary and an invasion of state's rights.

"You are now coming to a fork in the road, one leading to the power of amendment and the other back to the constitution," Levy Mayer of Chicago told the court, in opening for the Kentucky committee. "There is no difference if we discuss whiskey, tobacco or cotton. I rise above the question that this deals with whiskey and dwell on the principle involved—can this constitution be amended?"

"The question is more than prohibition. It is now a question of the sovereignty of the state. Remove the police power and no state will exist."

These contentions were denied by Solicitor General King and Assistant Attorney General Friserson who argued the amendment was properly adopted by congress and had been ratified by three fourths of the states. The solicitor general also said the amendment did not interfere with the functions of the states but gave the federal government power to act with the states in enforcing prohibition.

This is the first of similar bills which will be explained to the committee by their authors.

With the calling of treasury officials for Thursday, today's hearings on proposed soldier relief measures is in sight. Chairman Fordney today making an appeal to expedite the hearings.

TEACHERS THEIR FIGHT TO CON CON BODY

Will Lay Plans for Higher Wages Before it Today

TO PRESENT FOUR POINTS

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 9.—The fight for higher wages for Illinois Teachers will be carried into the state constitutional convention tomorrow. Representatives of the teachers met here today and planned the program for presentation of their case when the convention meets in committee of the whole tomorrow to hear a discussion of educational proposals.

The teachers have arranged to discuss the following four points:

First—The present constitutional article on education.

Second—The present conditions and growing needs of the public schools.

Third—The problem of raising school revenue.

Fourth—Proposals before the convention affecting the educational system.

Representatives of the teachers met here today to outline the program expressed opposition to the present article on education which would permit the appointment of state and county school superintendents. They favor election of these officers. This subject will be discussed by B. C. Moore, McLean county, superintendent; August Maue, Will county superintendent; H. T. McCrea, Madison county superintendent and C. J. Howard, Vermillion county superintendent.

Speakers on the topic of the growing needs of the schools will include Peter A. Mortenson, superintendent of the Chicago schools; J. O. Ingleman, superintendent of the Decatur schools and Chairman of the legislative committee of the State Teachers' Federation; Mrs. Ida M. Fursman, president of the Chicago Teachers' Federation; Miss Bess Sullivan, of the Chicago Teachers' Federation; C. C. Dodge, president of the Chicago Principals Club, and J. W. Tanner, treasurer of the Chicago schools committee.

In discussion of the raising of school revenue the teachers are expected to advocate proposals which will enable the legislature to levy sufficient revenue to pay the profession a living wage. Some of the plans suggested for increased revenue include classification of property for taxation purpose, inheritance and income taxes, taxes on money derived from development of natural resources and on unearned increment and a mineral deposit tax. The subject of revenue has been assigned to Robert C. Moore of Carbondale, secretary of the state education board, formerly president of the Illinois Normal school, Miss Margaret Haley, business agent of the Chicago Teachers' Federation and I. M. Allen, superintendent of the Springfield schools.

Discussion of the twenty proposals submitted to the convention on educational subjects has been assigned to W. B. Owen, president of the Chicago Normal School.

There is little opposition among the teachers to the article on education of the present constitution. They believe it should be adopted with a few minor changes. Their principal attack will be on revenue laws.

The educational committee has decided to complete its report and submit it to the convention March 25 on which date the teachers will be given another opportunity to present the case.

On the committee's action the committee of the whole of the convention will first vote to complete a final report. It will report that the article of the present constitution be incorporated in the new basic law with the exception of section six which will provide that no person shall be exempt from military service on the grounds of having conscientious scruples, but the governor may provide for the placing of such objectors in non-combatant branches of the service. The committee on the bill of rights and education held a joint meeting today at which a number of ministers presented arguments favoring the compulsory reading of the bible in the public schools.

The convention adjourned today adopting resolutions on the death of Delegate Edward C. Curtis. Mr. Curtis died at his home in Grant Park yesterday. A committee to attend his funeral which will be held Friday at A. M.

THE NEW PENSION LAW

The House has passed an old age and disability pension act for the Spanish and Philippine wars, and the China relief expedition. The bill provides that any person who served ninety days, was honorably discharged, and is mentally or physically disabled not as the result of his own vicious habits, shall receive a pension of $12 per month if he is 62 years of age, $24 if 72 years of age; and $30 if 75 or more years old.

SMOOT SERVES ULTIMATUM TO SAVE PAPER

In the interest of conserving the supply of paper, as well as the cost of printing and mailing, Senator Smoot has given formal notice that hereafter he will object to all extraneous matter going into the Congressional Record except resolutions from State legislatures or city councils. Mr. Smoot's ultimatum means that petitions, political speeches, newspaper editorials, etc., will not be given free publicity through the files of the Record. During the debate on the peace treaty the columns of that publication were loaded down with a mass of material that had no proper place in the official proceedings. So notorious did the practice become that one Democrat from the south earned the title of "exchange editor of the Congressional Record."

The Wichita example shows what women can do if united in an earnest effort to cut living costs. In that western city the women were banded together in this way. They reduced kitchen wastes to such an extent that the firm which had the city garage contract recently went into bankruptcy.

The old project of an interurban between Springfield and Beardstown has been revived. Certainly its projector, Mr. Faith, is worthy of his name. Most investors who look into interurban business these days do not consider this a propitious time for railroad building. The fact is that many of the lines are having hard sledding to pay expenses and keep up interest on their bonds.

The North Chicago preacher who was locked out of his church by a number of his parishioners has brought suit for $100,000 damages. If he can only recover a decent portion of this amount the question of salary increases will no longer bother this clergyman.

Most Illinois preachers are traveling along on salaries only slightly increased by comparison with a few years ago. Probably most of them would welcome the legal opportunity to compel some of their flock to "come across."

The demands of the anthracite coal miners for 60 per cent increase and bettered working conditions doesn't cause nearly as much of a surprise as it would have six months ago. At that time the very similar demands of the bituminous coal miners had not been made. Their subsequent action rather accustomed the public to radical labor requests. This reminds one that coal operators seem quite confident that the commission now considering the issues between the operators and the miners will recommend that authority be given for a higher selling price. The soft coal miners are expecting like favors from the commission. So the outlook for the poor consumer is not at all joyous.

GOOD AND BAD TRUSTS

Some merchants who are familiar with the facts declare that the recent court decision that the U. S. Steel corporation is not a violation of the Anti-trust law is very much in the interest of the public. These same men declare that if it were not for the U. S. steel organization that nails and other articles they manufacture would be selling at very much higher prices.

Similar statements have been made in the past about the Standard Oil Co. It is a giant concern but is said to have held prices down rather than have boosted them. If these statements are true Mr. Taft was right in his often quoted statement that there are both good and bad trusts.

CAUSTIC WORDS FOR MR. WILSON

"Fewer men of larger capacity would do the task better," said Secretary Lane when speaking of the work of the Federal Government in his parting report to President Wilson. That is what might be called a caustic slam at Mr. Wilson's selections of "brains" for his cabinet. Another characteristic statement of this man who has served his country more than 20 years, the last seven in the cabinet, was, "As matters are now devised there are too few in the government whose business it is to plan."

Mr. Lane probably discovered this many times when wishing to plan things while a member of the Wilsonian cabinet. Mr. Wilson will not likely enjoy reading this frank statement from a man who has long been considered the brainiest and most unprejudiced member of his cabinet. We are wondering if he will attempt to make any answer.

THE FOOLISH STATUTE

Governor Edwards of New Jersey is the only presidential candidate whose name will appear on the Democratic primary ballot in Illinois this year.

There are several Democratic aspirants, but their names do not appear. And so the "advisory" vote of Illinois Democrats will go to Edwards; none of the others will be in the running on this lap of the race.

It serves to illustrate what a foolish statute we have. The men who called for it put it through for an immediate purpose they then had in hand and mind. But we have neglected to repeal the fool thing, and of course it comes back to pester us.

And one is reminded that most of the primary improvements we have made in the past dozen years have almost utterly failed to work in practice. The architects of these improvements were a bum lot.—The Decatur Review.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

No Appetite.

I am tired of boiled potatoes, I am tired of prunes and slaw; I am tired of stewed tomatoes, and of predigested straw. And the dame who cooks the vittles sheds a sad, discouraged sigh, as she takes her knife and whittles apples for the daily pie. All our lives are repeating ancient meal-time stunts, by jings; one grows tired at last of eating, as he tires of other things. Once the horn that sounds for dinner made my pulses travel fast; oh, it seemed a four-time winner when I heard its welcome blast; like a kangaroo I sprinted, from the distant field I flew, when that brazen trumpet hinted that the pork and beans were due. But my tummy then was younger than it e'er will be again, and it knew the pangs of hunger that are felt by olden, on a happy vanished day, when my sideboards, bright and golden, showed no grizzled strands of gray. Oh, the years are short and fleeting, they have flown on whizzing wing; and I'm weary of eating, as I'm tired of other things; and the dame who has the habit of arranging grub for me murmurs as he tries the rabbit and prepares the senna tea.

NEWS NOTES FROM SINCLAIR VICINITY

Miss Goldie Mitchell to Teach Hazel Dell School the Coming Term—Railroad Improving Stock Yards—Other Neighborhood Happenings.

Sinclair, March 9.—Mrs. Lee Means of Alton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Waterfield, northwest of Sinclair for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McClain are the parents of an 11 pound son.

Miss Goldie Mitchell of Mercer county has been employed to teach the Hazel Dell school, east of Sinclair the coming term. Samuel Hiles has removed his family to their new home five miles west of Winchester, Scott county.

Marion and John Means have moved to a farm near Hadley, Pike county.

The railroad company has been engaged in putting cinders in the stock yards here. This is a great improvement over the mud holes which were there before.

The family horse belonging to R. M. Robinson had its shoulder broken a few days since and had to be killed. The family much regretted this misfortune.

This community was shocked Sunday afternoon when news came that C. B. Graft was suffering from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Mr. Graft was reared in this vicinity and has many friends here, all of whom regret to know of his ill health.

Mrs. Alice Allen passed away Saturday, March 6, at her home a half mile north of Sinclair, at the age of 29 years, 7 months and 22 days. The deceased was born and reared in Missouri and had been a resident of Morgan county only a few months. She is survived by her husband and five children. Interment took place at Hebron cemetery Monday with services in charge of Rev. Ray Ragan.

John Hickey, living two miles northeast of Sinclair, lost his 18 months old son by death Saturday. The child was buried at Chandlerville, Sunday.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

SOME OTHER DAY PRICES

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Men came West in the early days, and got rich on farms or in merchandizing or in other ways. But how did they do it, with such prices?

How could they lay up money when beeswax was practically legal tender?

According to Eames.

That voracious historian Eames, gives some local prices as to Jacksonville, or Morgan county.

Eames says: "This panic of 1837 was the greatest money panic that ever occurred. The banks (what there were) all suspended, and until 1846 there was no money seen." This statement was made after a reference to Illinois College, and its struggles then. He says: "The College became more and more involved financially, until, in 1838, it cleared itself from debt, by giving up the larger part of its property."

Jno. W. Lathrop was quoted as saying:

"Venison was sold at 75 cents to $1 for the loin and two hind-quarters; wild turkeys, 25 cents each; prairie chickens, 50 to 75 cents per dozen; quails usually sold at 25 cents per dozen, altho I have known them sold three dozen for 50 cents, and wild pigeons the same price, potatoes, 12½ cents; turnips, 10 cents; corn, 10 cents; pork 2 cents; eggs 8 cents; butter, eight to ten cents. In 1843 we bought wheat at 35 to 37½ cents, delivered in Jacksonville; 40 cents delivered at Naples, Meredosia, Beardstown, Bath and Havana (all river towns). We bought 1000 barrels of flour of Ira Davenport and C. Matthews, at $2.25 per barrel, delivered at Naples. Some years we bought hemp and wool, to make our payments in New York and Philadelphia."

Eames wrote: "In farm lands the prices and numbers of transfers were about the same in 1882, as in 1881. Fancy farm lands sold from $75 to $95 an acre; while the general price for the best farms ran about $60 to $75. The barren and bottom lands brought from $30 to $45. We think this showing cannot be beat in any county in the state."

Col. Geo. M. Chambers was quoted as saying: "In 1837-8, real estate in or near the city was about as follows: Farm from $20 to $40 per acre; after the crash, owners still held on in hopes of better times. The same lands sold in 1840 to near 1848, for whatever was offered. The Bradshaw estate was sold in 1846, waft.

from $7 to $15 per acre. (Smedley). His other lands, on Sandy, brought from 75 cents to $1 per acre. A house and lot on East street sold for about $45. The buyer afterwards burned up the flooring and joists and left it. We put out our bill of prices in 1841. $1.75 for hogs weighing 250 lbs.; $1.50 for 225 lbs.; $1.25 for 200 lbs.; $1.50 for 100 lbs." People drove to Alton, and sold there at prices offered here, and lost money. "Everything was done by barter and a silver dollar looked as big as a grind stone."

Printers were "easy" then, they sold their papers to subscribers for about $1.50 per year, and took much—if the subscriber paid, in produce. Most anything would do.

The Other Side.

One difficulty then was the relatively high prices of store goods such as calico, linen or cotton cloth, woolen materials for men or women, and so along. The calico sun bonnet was largely worn.

Prices in 1832

Eames gave this bill:
To Hook & Wiswall, Dr.
March 2, 1832, for 1 curdy comb $.38
March 2, 1832, for 1 pair cards50
Sept. 29, 1832, for 12 lbs. Iron at 8½ 1.02
Oct. 13, 1832, for 5 lbs. coffee 1.00

Some Memories

L. F. Stoddard formerly here, of Ramsey, Ill., wrote in '83 to a friend here: "Fifty years ago, houses were of logs, covered with boards and floored with puncheons, chimnies of sticks and mortar. The benighted stranger was never turned away. The entertainment was primitive but generous—corn dodger, jerked venison and coffee, the staple diet; the scaffold bedstead or a pallet upon the floor, was the couch."

Eames told of "Father" Dickens who came from Tennessee in 1830: "He told also about ferrying a bride over a stream in a hog trough, about eight feet long and fourteen inches wide."

John File of the northwestern part of this county reported by Eames, "One of the questions that was always asked in buying a horse was 'will he carry double?' because we always took our girls on behind us on the horse." And the girls could put their arms around their beau's waist.

The Parent-Teachers of the Fourth Ward held their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Washington school in the gymnasium.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water, sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

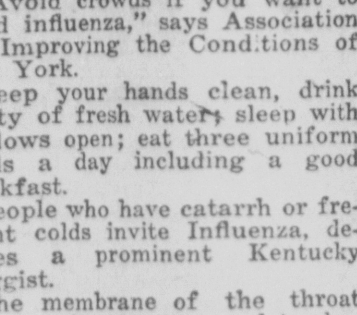

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

What Car Rivals the Hudson Super-Six?

What can any fine car give that compensates for lack of the Super-Six motor?

It is exclusive in Hudson. For five years it has meant unquestioned supremacy in acceleration, hill climbing, road and speedway contests. But, more important, it reduces vibration almost to nil and so checks the most destructive force automobiles must contend with. This assures dependable everyday transportation and long life in the car.

And Hudson also is supreme in design. It created models now standard with all fine cars. Men and women of good taste always turn first to Hudson for beauty, distinction, power, speed, reliability and endurance.

More than 80,000 Hudsons have been sold. The demand far exceeds production. Unless you order now you may be disappointed in delivery.

Stephenson's Fight for Recognition

When George Stevenson invented the locomotive, all the forces of incredulity that ignore, the conservatism that hates, the ridicule that mocks what is new, were brought to bear to oppose his great invention. The same spirit of mockery and criticism has confronted practically every new and worthy idea.

CHIROPRACTIC UNDER FIRE

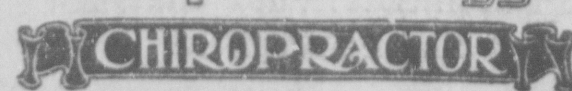

Those who accepted disease and suffering as a natural part of life's experience, laughed and scoffed when Chiropractic first launched the idea that ill health was unnatural and the direct result of spinal pressure on the nerves, which shut off the life forces of the body. And they ridiculed the idea that by simple Chiropractic spinal adjustments, without drugs or knife, this pressure could be relieved, the cause of disease corrected and normal conditions, health restored.

But in the face of it all, Chiropractic has advanced because it has proved it is right. Thousands who formerly suffered are now enjoying health through the aid of and it is rapidly being accepted as the logical, most effective drugless Health science of the ages. If you are not enjoying good health, give Chiropractic (KI-RO-PRAK-TIC, a fair, open-minded investigation and prove its value to you and your loved ones.

Editor Journal:-

I have just received word of the death of a valued friend, Mrs. E. Barnes of LaHarpe, Hancock county a saint in every sense of the word. In 1847 my father, Rev. Warren Nichols, was called to the pastorate of the Congregational church at that place but failing health compelled him to leave two years later. He intended to settle in Pennsylvania where there would be no malaria but only went as far as Ohio where he ended his journey but the vicissitudes of the past years had been too much for him and after a few years of toil, ill-health and privation he went to his reward. Tho but 5 years of age when he left the place it is indelibly on my mind. It was on one of the main roads to California and well I remember the long lines of wagons lumbering along, drawn by oxen and driven by men who hoped to return with gold. A few did so and many did not.

The church, the village store, the schoolhouse I well recall, Indians didn't live about the place but strolling bands were no curiosity while deer, wolves, snakes and various other things were indications of an early day. I was in McGuffey's third reader and I remember yet the lessons we used to have and I could repeat many of the lessons in the old blue back Webster's elementary spelling book. Our school house was floored with wide puncheons and in spelling class we toed the mark and the one at the head at the close of school was permitted to wear home a dime strung on a bit of pink tape. Then he must go to the foot of the class and try to work up again.

I well recall the village store kept by Mr. Bliss and my dear sister's consternation when I would persist in going too near the heels of the horses tied to the old hitching rack. Mr. Bliss had some caps covered with oil cloth and eagerly I longed for one. My father used to reward good lessons with an egg each and I finally collected enough to get my cap and I remember as tho it was yesterday seeing the usual loafers about the store come out to see me strut home with my "shiny cap."

My education didn't begin in the schoolhouse but at home where mother used to paste papers against the logs to keep out the cold and from the papers I learned the first rudiments of knowledge. That tedious journey of two weeks to Ohio will ever be vividly remembered. We had a spring wagon drawn by three horses and many times it was all the team could do to get us across some soft place and many a poor fellow, not accustomed to western prairies, we met stuck in a slough. We had 150 miles of cordury, mostly in Indiana and I have often thought that my present 5:10 1/2 might be six feet two had it not been for the dreadful jolting of that trip. How glad we were when we were told that we had but thirteen miles more of the dreadful road. One day my mother and sister thought they would enjoy a change by walking a while and as they stepped off the poles across the road to let the wagon pass they began to sink, Peter like, not in the Sea of Galilee, but in the horrid Indiana mud. Glad the Hoosier state has retrieved her reputation and has constructed so many miles of good thoroughfare.

Three years ago this summer I visited LaHarpe but of course there was nothing familiar as it is quite a place. I asked the hotel landlord for some elderly persons, and he referred me to Mrs. Barnes who lived near by and thither my wife and I went and were delighted to find a neighbor of my dear parents and one who remembered them well. The pleasure was wholly mutual and we could hardly tear ourselves away so happy was the visit. We left the next day late in the forenoon and I paid her another call. The next year we made another visit to the place and as soon as Mrs. Barnes heard we were in the town, which was right after we arrived, she sent for us and we spent much time with her and it has been my pleasure to write her a good many letters which she has much enjoyed the she was 92 when she passed away. Her husband a good many years ago but she has the faithful and devoted care of a bachelor son who had had a housekeeper and has done all he could for welfare of his aged parent. The blessing of Heaven will follow him for it.

The Maytag

This Famous Gasoline Power Washer Gives You All the Advantages of an Electric Washer

Farm and town homes which have no electricity can now enjoy the same conveniences as homes where electric washer can be used.

The Maytag Multi-Motor Washer does just as good work, is just as compact and as easy to move around as electric washer.

Yet its power is furnished by a compact gasoline engine built right in the machine. This is the only washer containing its own gasoline engine. This is because the Maytag Multi-Motor is the only successful, air-cooled, one-half horse power motor ever developed. It uses very little oil and gas, weighs only 35 pounds. Yet it has power to spare. It is equipped with a special, flexible exhaust tube which may be put outdoors while engine is running in the house.

If you do not have electricity in your home come and see this wonderful Maytag Multi-Motor Washer. See what an improvement it is over the old-style washers which require a separate gasoline engine. See how you can now do your washing wherever you choose—indoors, outdoors—in the basement, in the kitchen, anywhere.

And this advanced-type gasoline power-washer avoids the hard, dangerous work of hand-cranking. The Maytag Multi-Motor is started easily by placing the foot on the starting pedal. In every respect the Multi-Motor Washer is as simple to operate as the finest electric washer. All parts are durable and all mechanism is fully protected from water.

The Multi-Motor has the same type of swinging reversible wringer as the famous Maytag Electric Washer. It wrings from the machine to the rinse tub—from the rinse tub into the blue tub—from the blue tub into the clothes basket—all without moving the machine.

And when the wash is done you can operate the churn, separator, the feed grinder, etc., from the pulley wheel on the side of the machine.

Come in and let us give you a complete demonstration of this wonderful machine. Let us show you how you can do your washing with greater ease and greater satisfaction by the Maytag Multi-Motor Washer with built-in gasoline engine.

WALLIS

America's Foremost Tractor

Here is the Wallis' calendar

The first hint of spring finds the Wallis hard at work at the plowing. Because of its light weight and correct design the Wallis is able to operate under unusual soil conditions. So the plowing is done early, and large acreage is prepared.

Next comes discing, harrowing and planting. To make a perfect seed-bed, and plant it at exactly the right time is most important.

The Wallis is a wonder in the hayfield. Cutting, stacking, hauling, etc., are speedily done. More and better hay is the rule with the Wallis.

When green turns to gold and anxious eyes scan the skies for hail or frost, the Wallis whirls the binders through the harvest, saving precious time and more precious grain.

Then, swiftly spins the separator, Wallis-driven, pouring out its flood of golden grain.

And so the cycle runs—and the year is closed with more plowing, wood-cutting, silo filling—hauling work of every kind.

This is the yearly calendar of the Wallis—America's Foremost Tractor.

The Wallis is Twelve Years Old and Has Stood the Test of Time

Any one considering the purchase of a tractor should satisfy himself positively as to the working power of the machine offered him. It is true that much depends upon local conditions, but it has been proven repeatedly that under equal conditions the Wallis will do more and better work per day than any other tractor of equal rated power, and stand up under it. It is an inexpensive machine, an economical machine, the recognized standard light weight fast machine. Come to our school on Friday and Saturday and learn the facts regarding this great tractor.

THE SOLDIER'S INCOME TAX

Those who served actively during 1919 in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, whether at home or abroad, may exclude from their income tax returns the compensation received from the United States up to $3,500. This applies to officers and enlisted men alike, and to ex-service men.

Persons on the retired list are not entitled to this special exemption. Those who were retired during 1919 must consider all of the retired pay taxable income, also pay for active service exceeding $3,500.

Army and Navy officers must include fair rental value of quarters furnished, in figuring their compensation. And if the total exceeded $3,500, the excess amount must be considered together with other taxable income.

An unmarried soldier, sailor, or marine, or ex-service man, must file an income-tax return if his net income, aside from the exempted pay, was $1,000 or over; if married, and not legally or intentionally separated from his wife, he need not file a return unless the joint net income of himself and wife was $2,000 or more. He is entitled to claim the established personal exemption of $1,000 or $2,000 plus $200 for each dependent.

Returns and payments must reach the Collector of Internal Revenue by March 15, 1920.

AKRON MAN GAINS SEVENTEEN POUNDS

Kelly Was Barely Able to Drag Around Big Feeds Fine Every Day Since Taking Tanlac.

"Talking about medicine that helps people, the one I always recommend is Tanlac for it set me right four years ago and has kept me in fine shape ever since," said C. W. Kelly of 214 1/2 Lake street, Akron, Ohio, in a conversation with friends, recently.

Mr. Kelly has been a plasterer for thirty years and has followed his trade in Akron for fourteen years. He is an influential member of the Plasterers' Union and well known.

"Pretty soon after Tanlac was put on sale here," continued Mr. Kelly, "I began taking it and in a few weeks time my troubles left me and I found that I had actually gained seventeen pounds in weight besides. Every few months, since that time, I have taken a little Tanlac to insure my good health. I don't wait until I get to feeling bad, I take it while I'm feeling good and it keeps me feeling that way."

"I had been suffering for three or four years from indigestion, disordered kidneys and rheumatism. My appetite was gone, I had severe pains in my back and felt tired and worn out all the time. I could never get any sound sleep and always felt as tired in the mornings as when I went to bed at night. I was continually losing weight and never felt well at any time. In damp weather my back and arms hurt so bad with rheumatism I couldn't sleep at all. My arms pained me so bad I could hardly get my hands up to my head and it was difficult, during these attacks, for me to work at all."

"Well, as I said, Tanlac soon relieved me of these troubles and I have been eating three hearty meals a day and feeling fine ever since. I used to come dragging in to my boarding house in the evenings hardly able to make it, but now you can see me stopping about as spry as a young man. I'll be sixty years of age in March but no one takes me to be more than forty-five, and I can do as much work in a day as I ever could. When my friends ask me how I manage to keep in such good shape and look so young I always tell them—Tanalac is what does the trick and advise them to try it. I never have a pain of any kind, sleep like a log every night, and feel like working every day. I wouldn't think of being without Tanlac, for I just think it's the greatest medicine ever made."

Tanalac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

MARCH WEATHER BUT NO RECORD BREAKER

George H. Hall Turns Back Pages to 1906—Much Colder Than Now.

To the Journal:

We are having March weather now, and any one can see the ground-hog is still on his job. Some few people will try to make you believe this is the worst they ever saw. I noticed in this morning's State Journal the weather man is quoted as saying this is the coldest March in the history of the W. B. I wish to call attention to the official record of 1906. That month came in with a part of a 4-inch snow on the ground which fell February 26th, and ended with a trace on ground at end of the month, a total of 22.5 inches fell during the month.

For fifteen days there was an average of 5 inches on the land, a part of the time it was 10 inches deep on the level.

There were 22 days in this month when the thermometer was below 32. The coldest days were as follows:

12th, 1 below zero; 17th, 6 below zero, (the coldest day recorded in any year since 1895); 18th, 2 above; 20th, 4 above; 21st, 3 above; March 2nd, 1913, recorded 1 above zero, and is the next coldest month.

Appropriate music was furnished by the choir of the church, the selections being the hymns, "Home of the Soul," "Jesus Knows and That's Enough," "Shall We Gather at the River."

Following the services at the church the little one was laid to rest beside the grave of his brother in the Chandlerville cemetery, his last resting place being made beautiful with flowers.

Walter Hickey passed away at the family home after a few days' illness of double pneumonia.

Walter, little son of John and Daisy Kern Hickey was born two and a half miles southwest of Prentice, July 5, 1918 and passed away at the place of his birth, at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, March 5, at the tender age of one year and eight months.

Besides the grief-stricken parents, he leaves to mourn his loss the following brothers and sisters, Donald, Simon, Anna, Thelma and Hershel. One brother Harold Vincent passed away May 25, 1917 at the age of eight months.

During the few short months of his baby life, little Walter endeared himself to the hearts of many. In the home especially was he a ray of sunshine, brightening the lives of those around him with his sweet smiles and baby prattle. He was always a delicate child, but was practically in his usual health until a few weeks ago, when he contracted a heavy cold which developed into double pneumonia.

Everything possible was done for his relief, but his little body was too frail to withstand the strain, and he quietly passed away to join his little brother in the Great Unknown.

He will be greatly missed in the home and the family will have the sincere sympathy of the entire community, but they can only cling to the Savior for real comfort, as their darling clung to them in life.

What

$50 Mill End Suitales

"Mill Ends"
Are

"Mill Ends" perhaps might better be called "Remnants." They are the pieces left after the "Bolts" of cloth have been made up on orders.

Every one is genuine worsted of highest character, and this season's patterns—the new browns, grays, greens, checks and stripes.

Some contain just sufficient cloth to make a suit for a small man, while in others there is sufficient for a suit and extra trousers for a medium size man, and so on.

Every piece is as perfect as though rolled in the bolt with the original, but if bought in the original bolt could not be sold for less than $70 to $80.

We consider ourselves particularly fortunate in getting direct from the manufacturers a nice assortment of these remnants and you will say that you have been equally lucky if you get in on this lot.

WHITE HALL VETERAN A FINE CHARACTER

Death of Sebastian Gropp Removes from Community Man of Unassuming but Noble Character—Remains of Interest from White Hall.

White Hall, March 9.—The death of Sebastian Gropp, whose funeral took place Sunday afternoon, leaves twenty-five members of the White Hall veterans' organization. The largest roll of members in the post's history was fifty-three in 1893. Mr. Gropp was one of the most active members, yet never sought or would accept official honor in any way. He was 82 years of age, and has resided at White Hall for sixty-two years. He is held responsible for bringing Charles Richert to White Hall from St. Louis in 1875, and Mr. Richert is now the oldest man in point of being in business now engaged in White Hall. Mr. Gropp had not been noted for charitable acts of great consideration, but since his death the number of tributes that have been made by those who have been aided by his generosity in a quiet manner are becoming so large that Mr. Gropp must be given a high place for charitable acts that will make him long remembered with the greatest reverence. He was one of the largest contributors to the White Hall soldiers' monument, which was appraised by a competent monument man a few weeks ago and valued at $20,000, and in design placed in a class with the greatest monuments of granite. This appraisal was made by Roy Rock of Farmer City, Illinois.

Misses Dorothy and Katherine Callans, have returned from a visit with their grandfather, Judge James Callans, at Winchester.

Mrs. George Hill is in Kansas City on account of the illness of a relative.

Work has commenced on the ship factory that has been agitated at White Hall for the most part of the last city election contest. The building and fixtures will cost about $20,000, but it is being erected at Shelbyville instead of White Hall.

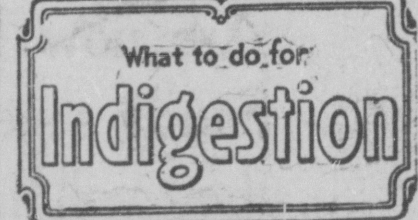

Sergeant S. J. Malonk arrived Saturday from Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to take charge of James A. Egan, who is under arrest for desertion and suspected robbery. Egan was unable to be moved because of illness, and Monday he was taken to the hospital at Jefferson Barracks until he is able to be taken to San Antonio to answer to the charges against him, which are said to be more serious than was supposed to be the case when Egan was first arrested here. large amount of money was found on him, which is said to be very much short of the amount that should have been recovered, running into the thousands of dollars.

The low temperature record of three degrees above zero Sunday morning was a topic of interest from the fact that few if any March readings have been as low. The records at White Hall go back eleven years, and only once was there a lower reading, which was one above zero on March 2, 1913. Other low March readings are as follows:

March 20, 1914, 8 degrees; 6th 1916, 6; 5th, 1917, 4. There is no record of March, showing a temperature reading below zero.

Completes Southern Speaking Tour.

W. G. Ebey has just completed a speaking tour of Georgia and Alabama. At Birmingham he addressed the railroad Y. M. C. A. He has returned to Hamlet, N. C., where he is a train dispatcher with the Seaboard Air Line, when not engaged in speaking engagements as assistant to the president of the American Train Dispatchers' association.

He expects to address a large gathering in Kansas City early in April, from where he will come to his old home in White Hall and speak to the folks in the M. E. church at Macon, Georgia. Telegraph of Friday says:

"W. G. Ebey, assistant to the president of the American Train Dispatchers' Association, addressed a meeting of eighteen of twenty-six train dispatchers in Macon at the Hotel Dempsey last night. The others were on duty while the meeting was in progress. Mr. Ebey showed the progress made by the association and the things that have been accomplished. He stated that out of 5,500 train dispatchers in this country, there are 5,321 in the association. He said that President J. G. Luhrson and the executive committee had in the past two years effected an increase of thirty-five percent in the salaries of train dispatchers, and in addition had obtained many other things of benefit to them, including one day off in seven and sick benefits, which had not existed up to that time. The one day off in seven, he showed, had resulted in the employment of 450 additional train dispatchers on the different lines. Following the meeting last night the dispatchers were provided with a luncheon at the Dempsey. Mr. Ebey will remain here today."

THE NEW OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX FOUR DOOR SEDAN

The Oakland "Sensible Six"

Many men and women, who could well afford costlier cars, are driving Oakland Sensible Six Coupes. Their selection was prompted by the unmatched value that this handsome, sturdy car represents and the unusual operating economies that the Oakland Sensible Six effects over a long lifetime of efficient performance.

Business and professional men find the Oakland Sensible Six Roadster the ideal car for arduous daily service. It is highly powered, soundly built and unfailingly reliable. And it is comfortable to ride in, easy to operate and unusually saving of gasoline, oil and tires.

Uninterrupted service and exceptional thrift are the salient characteristics of the Oakland Sensible Six Touring Car. Rough roads surrender to its masterful power, and emphasize the unusual riding comfort of this able, roomy car. And gasoline and tire mileage are uncommonly high.

Every essential convenience, from mechanical lifts for the windows in its double-latch doors to an inconspicuous heater for use on cold days, has place in the equipment of the new Oakland Sensible Six four door Sedan. And being of solid body construction and built upon the standard Oakland chassis, its range of activity is fully as great as that of the open car.

Peer of Light Weight Cars

Probably the best evidence of the practical nature of Oakland cars is found in the fact that the large majority of Oakland owners is found among merchants, farmers, and professional men—a very discriminating class of buyers. The demand of the farmer for a sensible, practical and economical car, as well as the merchant's knowledge of values and the professional man's appreciation of correct principles of design and construction results in their selection of the Oakland for its practical utility.

The practical results of the elimination of unnecessary weight without sacrificing an ample margin in safety in every part are shown by reports of Oakland owners which show regularly a gasoline mileage of from 18 to 25 miles per gallon, 8000 to 12,000 miles per set of tires, and correspondingly low costs of maintenance.

The practical value of the Oakland Sensible Six Engine lies in its simplicity, accessibility and the efficiency of its power development. Simple design means economical manufacture, minimum wear, and easy low-cost adjustment or repair. Accessibility of the main parts to the engine permits ease of inspection and quick adjustment when necessary.

The policy of concentrating on the manufacture of a single chassis type, backed by immense factory resources and large scale production makes possible a price which represents the maximum practical value—the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in real comfort and utility to be found on the automobile market.

Judged from every angle, this automobile is worthy of its name—Oakland Sensible Six.
